Communicating with neighbours and the local community. Ausply, as a responsible local community employer, understands the need to inform neighbours, adjoining businesses and any other parties affected by an incident. Indeed, the NSW Fire and Rescue services recently undertook an inspection of the premises to evaluate incident response, evacuation and incident control. Evacuation of neighbouring properties was not considered as the risk level was perceived as minimal impact to adjoining properties.

Nonetheless, Ausply will post this plan on the Big River Group website and, in the event of an unlikely incident, will seek the guidance of the NSW Fire and Rescue Service and the requirement for a doornock, if necessary, to address contingency plans for neighbours and their property.
